INITIAL READING ASSIGNMENTS – SPRING 2017

Listed below are the initial reading assignments we have received to date. Not all professors submit initial assignments, so do not be concerned if there is no listing for one or more of your courses. Even if a course is not listed here, materials for the course should be available in the Bookstore. This list may be updated if we receive additional assignments. An electronic copy of this document is available through Dean Sowle’s Record page.

Assignments added 1/12/17:
- Property (Prof. Perritt)
- Regulation of New Technologies (Prof. Perritt)

Assignment revised 1/13/17:
- Copyright Law (Prof. Lee)

Accounting for Lawyers – Prof. Van Neste
The textbook for this class is Cunningham, Introductory Accounting, Finance, and Auditing for Lawyers (6th ed.). Before the first class, please read pp. 3-23. Please also make sure that you have access to the course's TWEN site. The syllabus will be distributed in class and posted on TWEN by the first day of class.

Administrative Law (Friday section) – Dean Krent
For the first class on January 20th, please read pages 1-19 in the packet of materials online at http://lawschool.westlaw.com/TWEN.

Advanced Topics in Trademark Law – Prof. Dinwoodie
The casebook is Graeme B. Dinwoodie and Mark D. Janis, Trademarks and Unfair Competition: Law and Policy (4th ed. Aspen 2014) (“CB”) and its Spring 2017 Update. The casebook is in the Bookstore; the 2017 Update is available for free in pdf format (at www.indiana.edu/~tmlaw). For the first week, please read pages 141-183 of the Update (Dorpan, Guthrie, Bayer and Trader Joe’s). The syllabus for the entire course is available on the class webpage, and you should skim that for all the relevant administrative information. At the first class, we will assign reading for those seminars where different class members do different reading.

Banking Law – Profs. McCauley & Geiringer
For the first class, please read Carnell, Macy & Miller, Law of Financial Institutions (Fifth Edition, 2013), pp. 3-38.

Bankruptcy Law - Prof. Walters
In Spring 2017, rather than use a traditional casebook, we will be using an on-line platform called ChartaCourse. ChartaCourse was created by law professors because, compared to traditional casebooks, it is both a better learning tool and much less expensive. I hope you'll like it.

Our ChartaCourse chart is called Walters Bankruptcy. Its contents were authored by me. Before classes get underway, please watch this video to learn how to create an account with ChartaCourse and subscribe to our chart. I believe it costs around $49 for a subscription.
Then, please watch this video to learn how to use ChartaCourse. It's a platform with lots of great features, but if you don't watch the video, you won't learn how to use them! If you have any questions, you can send an email to chartacourse@chartacourse.com.

Finally, once you have access to the chart, read the syllabus & course info.

The other thing you may wish to consider before classes start is buying a hard copy of the Bankruptcy Code. We need the statute in front of us in virtually every class. Up to date Code extracts are included in the chart and that may work for you, along with online resources like Westlaw. But many lawyers (me included) prefer to have an inexpensive, portable hard copy version to hand. For example, when I am looking at Code provisions in substantive chapters of the Code (e.g. Chapters 7 and 11), I often need to cross-refer to definitions in Chapter 1. Some folks find that good old fashioned hard copy is easier to navigate than online resources in those instances. I have asked the bookshop to stock this excellent, relatively inexpensive and portable version: http://legalpub.com/product-us-bankruptcy-code.html

I look forward to meeting you and working with you.

Seventh Circuit Review Honors Seminar – Prof. H. Morris
Welcome to the Seventh Circuit Honors Seminar. As you undoubtedly know, the focus of the seminar is to produce and publish a law journal focusing on recent decisions of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. An important part of the process is the selection of a case or cases on which to write. In this regard, please come to the first class session with one or more topics/cases that can form the subject of your semester long article. You should focus on cases decided within the last 12 months, with particular emphasis on cases decided since January 2016. A case in an area of the law that has particular interest to you works well. Cases with dissents, those that reference a circuit split, or those of first impression are particularly well suited as the subject of an article. To guide your search for a topic/case, you should review prior issues of the Seventh Circuit Review, which is found at http://www.kentlaw.iit.edu/academics/law-review-and-legal-publications/seventh-circuit-review. Also, you may want to look at various legal periodicals for ideas, including Courthouse News Service, http://www.courthousenews.com. The Seventh Circuit’s website may also be helpful. Further, you can consult either Fajans’ Scholarly Writing for Law Students or Vokokh’s Academic Legal Writing for additional information on selecting a topic/case. In addition, please bring your laptop to the first class as we will be using it to further refine the individual selections. Our collective goal is that by the end of the first class session we will have a finalized list of cases/topics on which each seminar participant will write.

During the First Class, each student will be asked to briefly report on the case or topic that they selected. We may ask why the case has enough interest for publication, who authored the opinion, the dissent (if any), when was it decided, etc. Should you want to discuss your selection further or have any questions as to case/topic selection, please contact either of the Executive Editors/Teaching Assistants (Emily Linehan, on elinehan@kentlaw.iit.edu, or Stephen Pigozzi, on spigozzi@kentlaw.iit.edu) or Hal Morris, the course instructor, at hrmorris@arnstein.com or 312.876.7185. It is very important that you come to class with one or two ideas for an article. Emily, Stephen, and I are looking forward to working with you this semester to create the next issue of the Review. Finally, you should obtain either a print copy of on-line version of the Blue Book for use in this class. All other books are recommended only.
